Who is APHN?

The Association of Public Health Nurses (APHN) invites you to become a sponsor or exhibitor for our 2024 conference, which will be held April 15-18 in Denver, Colorado. As a conference sponsor or exhibitor, you will build relationships with leaders in the field of public health nursing, engaging with more than 300 public health professionals, including nurses, nursing educators, and other public health professionals whose focus is on population health.

The Association of Public Health Nurses is a non-profit, professional organization whose mission is to advance the practice of public health nursing to promote the public's health. In addition to having a history spanning more than 85 years, APHN's strength lies in its connection with thousands of nurses and partners in public health and population health work at the local, state, tribal and national levels. APHN's members are actively engaged in local, state, and national collaborative partnerships that promote and improve the public's health.

APHN is an affiliate of the Association of State and Territorial Health Officials (ASTHO) and the National Association of City and County Health Officials (NACCHO). APHN is also a founding member of the Council of Public Health Nursing Organizations (CPHNO).

We rely on partnerships with sponsors and exhibitors such as your organization to bring a robust educational experience to our members through annual conference. We hope you will consider the various options detailed in this document and make plans to join us in Denver next Spring.
